Consent to Join Dr. Lodi's Inner Circle

“The Participant” has requested to join Dr. Lodi's Inner Circle, which may involve one or more group sessions with Thomas Lodi, MD, MD(H) (“Dr. Lodi”).

The Participant acknowledges, understands, and agrees that by joining Dr. Lodi's Inner Circle, which will be held virtually, and through written or other communications, private and personal data—often considered confidential by law—will necessarily be discussed and shared with other participants.

The Participant further acknowledges that participation is completely voluntary and not required by Dr. Lodi. By joining, the Participant waives any legal or statutory rights of privacy or confidentiality regarding their medical history, illness, treatments, and prognosis.

The Participant agrees not to share any resources, content, or member information outside of the membership. This confidentiality is vital to maintaining a safe and trusting environment for all participants.

Additionally, the Participant understands that participation in Dr. Lodi's Inner Circle does not constitute medical advice. Participants are encouraged to seek their own healthcare providers for personal medical concerns.

The Participant understands and agrees that Dr. Lodi (i) shall not be liable for any disclosures made during group sessions, and (ii) has no control over the further dissemination of information once disclosed.

Should the Participant decide to cease participation in Dr. Lodi's Inner Circle, they may cancel at any time. This cancellation will only apply to future interactions and will not affect any discussions or disclosures that occurred before the effective date of termination.

By joining, and paying for the Membership, the Participant confirms they are of the age of majority and has read, understood, and agreed to the above terms regarding the release of confidential, personal, and private information during and related to the Inner Circle.
